Hello to all, and Happy September!

I will be out of the office for a week this month, so it's a bit of a short month. I will be hosting my annual "Make, Take, and Bake" on the 27th; make sure to bring all the items mentioned to class. Trivia will still be taking place....how could we miss that?? And on Thursday October 5th, the card making class will feature a pre-planned card for you to color and assemble. It should be a fun month! Hope to see you soon!!!!
